The members of the Perpetual Help Club are very proud of you who serve our country so that we may retain those privileges that make life in these United States so pleasant. We are proud of you. You have shown, you are showing, and we are confident that you will show, spirit that makes an American an American.

It is the promise of a peaceful world that enables a people to survive war. Those of us who, because of fact of circumstance, must remain homw whil you serve scattered to the four winds, make this promise to you: that when you return home that home will be a better home than you left.

Latest reports from Jack Potter tell of the exorbitant prices charged by the Alaskan storekeepers. Jack says that the only article that has not gone up is the 3¢ stamp & that is still sold for 3¢. Maybe George Spittler should extend his business as far as Alaska & get rich quick.

Phil Staats is home on furlough & when he returns to camp, his wife Virginia will accompany him. She plans to remain with him & make her home somewhere near the camp.

Jane Anderson Potter is also spending a few weeks with her husband, Barry, in Durham, N. Carolina.

Vincent Heiderman has a 20 day furlough after many months overseas in which he has seen action in several places including Sicily, Italy & Anzio Beachhead. Charles Smerski also home on furlough became the godfather at the Christening of Vincent's baby son.

Also home on furlough this month: Paul Beckman, Joan Fierle, George Abbatoy, and Joe Heiderman.

A letter written by John Duggan was read by your editors at Trico. John states that Edward Mayer is his Commanding Officer in North Africa. Both were former employees of Trico.

To Bill Pakenham: Our apologies-- We thought you had donned the olive drab and instead you are kicking the salt water around. The joke was on us. Need we say more!!!

Grace Brogan Smith who is now a member of the WACS leaves for Camp Shanks Georgia shortly. We wish her the best of luck.

HERE AND THERE

Lake View is getting its heat in large & frequently record-breaking doses these days. Within a week, 3 records have been smashed and one tied. We had the hottest Memorial Day on record----87.

Several people took advantage of the good old sun at the beaches & in their back yards as usual, & then suffered considerable pain. Grace Schiedel Potter was the nearest to "well done," but now she has a lovely tan.

The first patient to be taken to the hospital in our new ambulance was Jake Stadler. Jake is home now after 4 weeks in the hospital resulting from an appendix operation.

Howard Durni former volunteer Navy Medical Corp man attached to Marines Scouts and snipers, and a veteran of service in Munda, New Zealand, Guadalcanal, & Australia, was radio-interviewed in the Vox Pop program from the Naval hospital, St. Albans, Long Island.

Jack Hanson tried to bury his foot under a bag of cement and ended up with a few broken bones, but they are mending nicely now.

The customary diseases that we all get when we are kids are again spreading throughout the vicinity. If you see anybody with a cloth around their ears, its mumps. If they've got a rash, its scarletina. Better knock on wood---you kids.

Ted Heubner is now holding a new job as the L.V. Firehall janitor since Joe Langbein has resigned. He says, quote, "I am interested in making the surroundings of the hall better looking and I wish to improve the hall & the grounds hoping that the work I am doing is satisfactory to the community." Unquote.

Wonder what the nurses at St Mary's Orphanage will do this year since all you fellows have gone?

To the Graduate: May he live long enough to learn that he has learned how to live.

The Lake View Grade School, as last year, will not hold a graduation exercise. They intend to go to the Museum of Science, the Buffalo Zoo, Laube's Old Spain for dinner, & lastly to a night baseball game. The graduates are:

There are 46 in the class.

Many of you may have wondered who the talented artist was who sketched the old familiar places on the front page of the L.V.L. We wish to thank Fred Fueller for his good work. Fred is now in the Merchant Marines. Good luck, Fred George Abbatoy, while on leave, married a Buffalo girl May 27th. To the Newliweds: May the newness wear off everything but their happiness.

Mrs. Viola Odell got tangled up with a food elevator (dumb-waiter) at Legion Hall in Hamburg and received an injured arm in the accident.

Quite a few of you should be interested to hear that Milton Grant is engaged to Miss Betty Foote of Hamburg. By the way, Milton would like to know what "haba haba" means.

THE FOURTH OF JULY--like oysters, Cannot be enjoyed without crackers.

There must be a fire sale on white paint this year. Everybody is painting their house including----- Gordon Hummel, Frank Ebel, Roger Ryan, Lawrence Ziegelhofer, George Hummel, Sox Spittler, E.A. Mayer, & Paint brush Joe Patrikus is painting the Congregational Church.

We asked Spiegel how he likes his painting job. He said, "I am getting falling arches from standing on the ladder rungs so long." We hope that they all get finished before the snow falls.

Rev. Leo J. Toomey, active for many years in Lake Shore area pastorate, was honored by St. Bonaventure College when that school conferred on him the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

D-DAY

Our first news of the invasion of France was heard by most of us from our "old stand-by" Clint Buchman in the early hours of June 6th.

D-Day for us meant duty, donation, and devotion. Everyone went about their usual tasks---this was no gala affair. The increase in blood donation was overwhelming. The 5th War Loan Drive started a week in advance in many places and the people are buying bonds in great quantities.

From the break of dawn until the end of the day, churches were filled with millions of heads bowed in humble prayer. Indeed it was D-Day.

CEE-EYE LAUGHS

Jean F: "Don't you think our uniforms are attractive?"

Gert B: "Yes, once you recover from the shock that we're all wearing exactly the same thing!"

1st Rookie: "I understand your pal Henry, has military teeth."

2nd Rookie: "Why yes, all his teeth are out in front."

Joe Heiderman: "I want to ball that Sgt. out again."

Buddy: "Again?"

Jee: "Yes, I wanted to ball him out yesterday."

1st Soldier: "Is there a leak in your barracks roof?"

2nd Soldier: "No."

1st Soldier: "Well then how did a big drip like you get in?"

Dick Baines: "Hey, any mail for me?"

Petty Officer: "Whats your name, Bud?"

Dick: "It'll be on the outside of the envelope."

A SALUTE TO THE MARINES FROM THE CONIGLIOS

This is a story of men serene,
A story of the great U.S. Marine.
First to land and first to fight,
Men of courage, men of might,
It begins from the shores of Tripoli
With aid from those Navy men at sea.
It comes down to the present waring
day to Guadalcanal,
Where dead men lay.

Semper Fidelis their motto true,
Those red stripes sewed on their trousers blue.
These make up those Gyrenes
There's nothing better than the U.S. Marines.

Their uniforms these days are green
A part of each handsome, brave Gyrene.
Their helmets and bayonets glimmer with light.
They've laden with killing tools,
Going to fight.

Remember Yorktown, remember Jacinto?
In '98 they took Gustanamo.
Cuba knows them--and the Phillippines
What great guys these mighty Marines.
Remember Bataan, Guam, and Wake?
For the Japs it was their greatest mistake.

Guadalcanal--a memory remains
Together with these famous musical strains.
The admiration of our nation is the finest ever seen
We are proud to bear the title of the United States Marines.

THE FAMILY OF THE FIGHTING MARINES
Who have three fighting Marines.
